THE WAY THEY WERE During the unexpected huge turnout of Filipinos celebrating EDSA I on its 20th anniversary, they fondly remembered the onset of Power power on the main island. As the Arroyo government downplays EDSA I, people take it upon themselves to relive the first day of commemoration of the four-day People Power revolt on Feb. 12, 1986 to mark at EDSA and reclaim their legacy. SAYING THE RESOLUTION OF the crisis facing the country should not be left to politicians alone, a powerhouse group of businessmen, religious leaders and former high government officials met yesterday to discuss how to end the potentially dangerous political deadlock.

The low-key, unannounced meeting convened by the Makati Business Club was attended by prominent businessmen led by Ayala Corp. chief Jose Ayres Zobel Ayres, Ed Thibault leader Rev. Mike Velasco and a host of anti-Arroyo forces led by former President Corason Aquino.

"There is a sense of urgency that the political crisis has to be resolved at the soonest time possible because the constitutional process for resolving this crisis are running down and we don't want to be left with more constitutional alternatives," former Education Secretary Raula told the business in a phone interview.

Most of the officials, however, were released after they renounced

"Many of them have joined us and have renounced to their sins... They are now on our side. A few of them are now incarcerated [in their quarters]," Esperon said at a news conference in Camp Aguinaldo yesterday.

Esperon did not identify the officials, who held the ranks of captain, first lieutenant and second

He said the military was able to identify the 14 last month after they renounced a list supposedly containing the names of some of the plotters.

The 34 officials had supposedly renounced to participate in another military uprising.

CBCP backs repeal of death penalty

By Lela B. Salaverria

THE CATHOLIC BISHOPS' CONFERENCE of the Philippines yesterday granted President Macapagal-Arroyo's assertion she would work for the scrapping of the death penalty law.

The CBCP's Episcopal Commission on Prison/Penal Care (BCP-PPC) is in support of a "positive work relationship" with President Macapagal-Arroyo.

"We found the signed statement is sincere that we have finally reached our common goal, for we have abolished the death penalty law before only to reinstate it and make our country one of the few that still adopt it," the statement of the commission said.

The Death Penalty law was abolished in 1987 but was reinstated in 1993. In 1998, it was amended to make lethal injection the form of execution.

The decision is good for appeal of the law, the Arroyo said, was based on her Catholic beliefs and not on her desire to go on the good side of the Catholic bishops.

Joining the CBCP in welcoming the President's announcement were the International Commission on Prison/Penal Care (IC-PPC) and the Coalition Against Death Penalty (CADP).

"The CBCP's timely response is the capacity of the bishops to be in solidarity with and reform its policies," said Rodolfo Diestre, its vice-president.

Arroyo, in a statement, to Gloria Macapagal-Arroyo, said the President's decision reflects a nation that believes in God and is a modern civilized state.

"Considering the abolition of capital punishment, the President is declaring that in promoting justice one need not yield to vengeance and hatred," Arroyo said.

Some critics, however, said President Arroyo's announcement is a capitulation.

Administrative law expert Mervin L. Lantion said the President is not making a statement.

"To each his own conviction. I think that for her own benefit. What ever happens, death is no death penalty," he said.

Arroyo, however, said she would support a bill repealing the death penalty.

FVR ridicules GMA 'best person' claim

Fransisco A-1

Just like in the Georgia in 2004 City, Anded if he shared the President's opinion, Ramos would not still reply. "How do you know the opinion with Ramos?"

Asked for his opinion on the matter, Ramos said, "The common."

Ramos and Aquino, both key players in the 1986 People Power Revolution, celebrated the 20th anniversary of the event with the Aquino.

Aquino will attend the Microenterprise Franchise Conference today in Makati to celebrate the event with the Aquino.

Ramos declined an invitation from Aquino, saying to attend the celebration except for the national early morning. He is coming on Feb. 25 to the People Power Movement in Makati.

"I declined because the President is there. But on Feb. 25, I'll be there. Why will I be there? Because the President is not there," Ramos said.

Franchise

Asked if McArroyo was sending him and vice versa, Ramos said, "It's not me that's sending. It's sending some others. It's there on the 25th, but it's not relevant to be there?"

It is a speech to the Foreign Correspondents Association of the Philippines Wednesday. He also addressed to the "people who played their part in the revolution along with me as a lifetime franchise of sending, again, administration where Ramos did not come before them."

Asked if he still believed in Ramos said, "The people of the Philippines hold the franchise for this."

Asked why the price of rice I had not been mentioned 20 years later, "That's not the body of one people. That's the body of one elected leader."

Muhammad Ali

In the Senate, Minority Leader Aquino mentioned Ali described as beautiful and cute, given the 2005's date that the was the last person to hold the country during the transition to a presidential system.

"Unlike Muhammad Ali who said he was the best heavyweight boxer in the world and proved it by his prowess in the ring, Gloria Arroyo proved over the legitimacy of her election in 2004," he said.

Senate President Franklin Drilon said McArroyo's "self assessment" was not based on the results of Pulse Asia and Social Weather Stations surveys, which put her net public approval rating at negative 56.

"That's not a private company, so one player's self assessment is submitted to the government. After, the government is the public and I think the voter and the voter do not agree," Drilon said.

Racism in military

Pimentel pointed out that the last quarterly survey of the SWG showed that a majority of the respondents resented her presence.

"If McArroyo believes that she is the best person to lead the country, why is her administration moved to all kinds of scandals that have alienated the citizens and undermined the confidence of investors," Pimentel said.

"Why is the leading congressional investigation of these scandals and corruption?"

And if the President were doing well after job, Pimentel asked why "there is so much resistance to the military while the national integrity is becoming more serious problem."

Pushing herself

In the House of Representatives, Minority Leader Francis Escudero said he urged McArroyo to step down.

"I have nobody to step in also decided to push herself forward. It's not only pathetic, it's downright 'hard sell,'" said Escudero who had led a failed impeachment drive against McArroyo in 2005.

House Deputy Minority Leader Alan Peter Cayetano, another impeachment proponent, said the President was the "same person to lead the nation."

"Who is the young to continue...the people of the nation's leadership of it?" asked Cayetano.

The lawmaker said developing democratic institutions, ensuring our transparency and accountability, which are the foundation of good government, were "her claim to fame."

"Ironically I don't I want to see a moral revolution, hope, love and good government, while President Arroyo administration is about drug, loan, cheating, lying and stealing," he said. (With reports from PhilGaz, Tribune and and Philippine Daily Inquirer)

A STATEMENT FROM THE CHAIRPERSON OF THE BOARD

22 February 2006

To Our Valued Clients and Friends,

I would like to take this opportunity to address you, our loyal clients and friends, and to thank you for your continued trust and patronage of Equitable PCI Bank. In the meeting of the Bank's Board of Directors last February 21, 2006, my fellow Directors unanimously elected me with their vote of confidence and elected me as Chairperson of the Board. I thank my fellow Directors for this generous show of support and I am confident that the Board will continue to be united in pursuing the Bank's objectives. I gratefully accept this responsibility and I assure all our clients, our employees, and the various stakeholders of Equitable PCI Bank that I will exert all efforts to ensure and protect their interests. For since I took over the leadership of the Social Security System in 2001, I have been determined to introduce reforms in the System and to ensure its long-term viability. I would like to believe that by being President of the SSS coupled with my experience as Chairman and Senior Partner of one of the largest public accounting firms in the country have equipped me to provide a forward and transparent leadership at Equitable PCI Bank. Since I am a non-executive Chairman, the Bank will continue to be run by its Management Team which has enabled it to progress under a professional environment.

Equitable PCI Bank has made tremendous strides in its operating and financial performance as the past several years. Recently, the Bank reported a 10% improvement in net income for 2005 based on unaudited financial statements. The Bank continues to progress under an improving economy with a government focused on economic reforms. Our national leadership led by President Gloria Macapagal Arroyo has shown the way through strong political will and a devoted determination for our economy to move forward. Our recent upgrade ratings from four international credit rating agencies and CALPIR have evidenced the upward trend that could not have been achieved had our President taken the easy way out.

I would like to end this message by again thanking all of you for your continued support for Equitable PCI Bank and I assure you that we continue to be ready in providing you and the banking public with the excellent and responsive service that we have been known for.

Thank you for making us your Bank of Choice!

People Power remains strongest political moral force, says Gringo

By Joe Zambora

He also stressed that it was a mission made by the "original EDSA movement" who had joined to end Marcos.

But there were more media than "thunder" at the reunion.

Host: What is your favorite? How is it different from the others?
Guest: I like the young women should make positions.
 (Giggles, laughs)

Host: What is your group's objective?
Guest: We want to be in the top 10. We want to be up with other comedians.
 (LA, ex.)

Host: I thought you were working in a call center?
Guest: I applied, but I didn't get it. I'm a comedian and I'm proud to be in the top 10.

Host: What is your organization's goal this year?
Guest: If possible, we want to quantify the quality of our projects.
 (LA, ex.)

Host: What is your advice to young people?
Guest: Don't give up. Keep working hard and it'll pay off.
 (LA, ex.)

Host: What have you learned from your experience, as well as your failure, in your standing career?
Guest: (Thinking hard) I've learned a lot from my experience. I've learned a lot from my experience.

Host: Do you have any final words for us viewers?
Guest: Thank you. I'm a comedian and I'm proud to be in the top 10.

Host: Why are you a comedian?
Guest: Because I'm a comedian and I'm proud to be in the top 10.

Host: Why have you been so much success as a comedian - what's your secret?
Guest: So-called success, but we do not in our own minds.

Host: What is your next project?
Guest: I'm a comedian and I'm proud to be in the top 10.

Host: What is your next project?

PLDT and SMART support Gawad Kalinga's

Isang Milyong Bayani

Be a GK Hero
Help build our nation

To achieve the mission of building 750,000 homes in 7,500 communities in 7 years, Gawad Kalinga (GK) has embarked on a new undertaking. They aim to mobilize a nationwide project called GK Isang Milyong Bayani (GK 1MB) that will inspire Filipinos to be the heroes that they truly are.

Through the support of partners like PLDT and SMART, a massive registration campaign is taking place. The goal: one million volunteers by the end of this year. Interested individuals can sign-up through SMS, e-mail, and hotline numbers.

Gawad Kalinga invites everyone to take part in this movement. From local government units to private corporations, schools and non-government organizations, there is a role each one can play to make GK 1MB a reality!

To register as a volunteer for the GK 1MB via text:

Enter the keyword shown above along with your name, city/province, age and gender (Ex. Juan Cruz/Morales/21/M)

Send to 286
